creased orchestra to suit this great production. PLAYS PIANO CONTINUOUSLY FOR TWENTY-FIVE HOURS

Robert Richardson, the piano player, pulled off quite a stant this week at Clark's pavilion by playing 25 hours without stopping for a single moment, says the Fallon Eagle. He started in at 9 o'clock Monday night and played without ceasing until 10 Tuesday night. A number of people went in and danced to his music both evenings. The only nourishment Mr. Richardson took during the 25 hours was eggnog, and even then while he held the glass in one hand played with the other. His knuckles became swollen and black, but he kept at it until his time was up.
